FACTUAL HISTORY

Defendant Kevin Stubbs agrees and hereby incorporates the entire factual history outlined in his Co-Defendant's pending motion [Doc. 77]. By filing this Motion Defendant Kevin Stubbs is in no way intentionally waiving his speedy trial rights or requesting to continue the trial date. Mr. Stubbs is currently in pre-trial custody in Pahrump, Nevada on almost 24 hour lockdown. Mrs. Stubbs has previously asserted his speedy trial rights on multiple occasions. It is not Mr. Stubbs' fault that exculpatory Brady material was withheld from him by the government until this late date and that additional evidence is now being turned over in violation of

This case has been pending before the Court since October 8, 2013. The case is not complex, involving only two defendants, Corey Stubbs and Kevin Stubbs, and allegations of firearm possession. Defendant Kevin Stubbs has been in custody since his arrest in this case, on September 28, 2013.

This is an extremely weak case whereby on September 27, 2013, law enforcement officers observed Defendant Corey Stubbs exited a vehicle alone from the driver's seat. [Doc. 64, page 2, "Finding and Recommendation." Later in the day, officer's observed Defendant Corey Stubbs return to the vehicle with Defendant Corey entering the driver's compartment and Defendant Kevin Stubbs entering the passenger side. [Doc. 64, page 3.] Once the law enforcement patrol vehicles approached, Defendant Kevin Stubbs exited the vehicle and ran towards the residence. Id. Defendant Corey Stubbs remained in the driver compartment of the vehicle. Later, officer's found a handgun on the passenger seat of the vehicle. Id.

The government previously moved for a continuance of the trial date on December 10, 2013 "for the availability of an essential witness." [Doc. 25] Later the government announced ready at this case on April 9, 2014. [Doc. 82] It was believed at that time that the government complied with its discovery obligations pursuant to Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. Previously, both Defendants were prepared to start trial, as scheduled, on December 16, 2013. The government represented it was also prepared for trial and had disclosed all discoverable evidence, but was not ready but/for the absence of witness Detective S. Farrington.

The second Calendar Call in this case was on April 9, 2014 at 8:45a.m., at which time the United States' announced ready. At 2:55p.m. the government disclosed, for the first time, an Officer's Report, See Exhibit 1. This report clearly outlines that Co-Defendant Corey Stubbs told law enforcement "It's mine, he has kids" regarding the subject handgun, for which Kevin Stubbs is being charged with possessing. The report is dated September 28, 2013 at 0035 hours.

The day before Calendar Call on April 8, 2014 at 9:56a.m, the government disclosed a "Report of Examination" for latent prints that noted that "no suitable prints developed" on the subject handgun. See Exhibit 2. This report was clearly exculpatory and should have been provided well before as it proves that Defendant Kevin Stubbs' prints were not on the subject firearm. The "Distribution Date" on the report was February 19, 2014. It was not turned over to the defense until April 8, 2014.

Furthermore, on April 14, 2014, the government disclosed an unredacted "Arrest Report" outlining that Defendant "Kevin had made threats to credible threats toward law enforcement officers to shoot it out with them instead of going to jail." See Exhibit 3. This unredacted report was previously requested by the defense to the government on November 14, 2013, however never provided. See Exhibit 4.

This case has been governed by the presumption of a Joint Discovery Agreement being in existence. See Minute Order [Doc.12]. As such, "[a]ll parties shall be deemed to have made all requests or demands, and reciprocal requests, for discovery or any notices required by statute, rule, or the United States Constitution..." See LCR 16.1(b)(D)(i). No information about any confidential informants has been provided by the government to Mr. Stubbs. Additionally, because this unredacted report was apparently withheld by the government, no opportunity to file any motions or litigate any issues in regards to this report, the statements contained therein, or confidential informants, was ever available to the defense.

Finally, because the exculpatory statements of Defendant Kevin Stubbs' co-conspirator Corey Stubbs was previously withheld by the prosecution team, Defendant Kevin Stubbs was unable to litigate such issues in any pre-trial motions, nor able to conduct any examination/crossexamination about such at the earlier Motion to Suppress where a hearing was held and two law enforcement officers testified. As Defendant Kevin Stubbs has remained in pre-trial custody, and has continued to adamantly assert his speedy trial rights, he is continuing to be prejudiced by this late disclosure.

Now, after voir dire of the Jury began the United States produced a "Report of Examination" of DNA Forensic Casework outlining that the subject handgun in this case had the DNA of Co-Defendant Corey Stubbs on it and not any DNA of Defendant Kevin Stubss. See Exhibit 5. This report was signed on March 17, 2014 and the "Distribution Date" was March 17, 2014. Id. This is clearly exculpatory evidence as now the evidence proves that the last person in the vehicle was Co-Defendant Corey Stubbs. See supra [Doc. 64]

Bottomline: 1) The government did not turn over an exculpatory admission/statement against interest by a co-defendant dated September 28, 2013 to defense until April 9, 2014; 2) the government did not turn over to defense an exculpatory latent print analysis with a "Distribution Date" of February 19, 2014 until April 8, 2014; 3) the government did not turn over an unredacted Arrest report that was requested on November 14, 2013 until April 14, 2013; and 4) the government did not turn over an exculpatory DNA report with a "Distribution Date" of March 27, 2014 until after voir dire began on April 21, 2014.

During all of the above, Defendant Kevin Stubbs has remained in pre-trial custody on 24 hour lockdown and continually demanded a speedy trial causing him to be prejudiced by these continued late disclosures of exculpatory Brady material.

POINTS & AUTHORITIES

A criminal defendant has an absolute right to the discovery of exculpatory and impeachment evidence in the possession of the prosecutors. See Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83, 83 S. Ct. 1194, 10 L. Ed. 2d 215 (1963). Additionally, prosecutors have a duty to learn of favorable evidence known to others acting on the government's behalf in a particular case. See e.g. Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. at 437, 115 S. Ct. at 1567, 131 L. Ed. 2d at 507.

In this case, the United States Attorney's Office had a duty to learn and gather all favorable evidence in this case in the possession of the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department who was acting on their behalf in this case. A district court's reliance on the prosecutor's lack of personal knowledge of the Brady material demonstrated a clearly erroneous understanding of the law as it has existed at least since Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419, 438, 115 S.Ct. 1555, 131

L.Ed.2d 490 (1995); see also Jackson v. Brown , 513 F.3d 1057, 1073 (9th Cir.2008). The term
"suppression" does not describe merely overt or purposeful acts on the part of the prosecutor; sins of omission are equally within Brady's scope. See Benn v. Lambert , 283 F.3d 1040, 1053 (9th Cir.2002) ("[T]he terms 'suppression,' 'withholding,' and 'failure to disclose' have the same meaning for Brady purposes.").

The Supreme Court has clearly held that "Brady suppression occurs when the government fails to turn over even evidence that is 'known only to police investigators and not to the prosecutor." Youngblood v. West Virginia, 547 U.S. 867, 869-70, 126 S.Ct. 2188, 165 L.Ed.2d 269 (2006) (per curiam) (quoting Kyles, 514 U.S. at 438, 115 S.Ct. 1555), see also United States v. Price, 566 F.3d 900 (9th Cir. 2009) (holding that in a Brady analysis, the district court should have considered whether the government failed to disclose the relevant information in the possession of any of its agents involved in Price's prosecution, not just what the prosecutor himself personally knew.)

In United States v. Bagley, 473 U.S. 667, 105 S. Ct. 3375, 87 L. Ed. 2d 481 (1985), the Supreme Court expanded the definition of favorable evidence to include both exculpatory evidence and impeachment evidence, because "such evidence is favorable to the accused" [citation omitted), so that, if disclosed and used effectively, it may make the difference between conviction and acquittal. Bagley, 473 U.S. at 676, 105 S.Ct. at 3380.

"Impeachment evidence is especially likely to be material when it impugns the testimony of a witness who is critical to the prosecution's case." Silva v. Brown, 416 F.3d 980, 987 (9th Cir.2005). Defense counsel may have "abandon[ed] lines of independent investigation, defenses, or trial strategies that it otherwise would have pursued," Bagley, 473 U.S. at 682; see also United States v. Fisher, 106 F.3d 622, 634-35 (5th Cir. 1997) (late disclosure deprived defendant the opportunity to depose the author of a report that contradicted a government witness and to prepare strategy and testimony appropriately);

Late disclosure of Brady material also means that defense counsel would have been unable to capitalize on evidence that would have reinforced the defense's theory of the case. United States v. Washington, 263 F.Supp.2d 413, 422 (D. Conn. 2003) (because of belated Brady disclosure, "there was no opportunity for the defense to weave [prosecution witness'] conviction into its overall trial strategy."); see also Miller v. United States, 14 A.3d 1094, 1116-17 (D.C. 2011) (holding that "exculpatory evidence must be disclosed in time for the defense to be able to use it effectively, not only in the presentation of its case, but also in its trial preparation.")

It is extremely concerning and there are serious questions as to why this evidence was withheld and by whom, and why this statement was also never mentioned in the testimony of two Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Officers at Defendant Kevin Stubbs' Suppression Hearing on January 31, 2014, where questions about statements were made - a transcript of the hearing was prepared [Doc. 53.] Moreover, as Defendant Kevin Stubbs remains in custody he is being prejudiced by the government's untimely disclosure of this evidence. Current counsel is not insinuating the Mr. Robert Knief, AUSA, intentionally withheld these reports and evidence. However, that does not excuse the actions of others to look for this evidence, as well as the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, who was the investigating body on the United States' behalf, regarding this case and current charges.

In United States v. Ted Stevens, the government itself motioned to set aside the verdict and dismiss the case with prejudice based on admitted Brady violations. See United States v. Stevens, 593 F.Supp.2d 177, 181 (D.D.Ct. 2009) The judge voided the conviction. In United States v. Chapman, the district court determined that the prosecutor violated both Brady and Giglio and the district court declared a mistrial. 524 F.3d 1073, 1083-84 (9th Cir. 2008). Following a hearing on the matter, the district court judge dismissed the indictment with prejudice. Id. [On appeal, the Ninth Circuit held that the mistrial was supported by a valid determination of manifest necessity and thus, a retrial of the defendant would not violate the Double Jeopardy Clause. Chapman, 524 F.3d 1073, 1083-84 (9th Cir. 2008).]

WHEREFORE, based on the continuing failure of the government, and specifically the prosecution law enforcement team, to timely turn over Brady material in this case this is a request that the only appropriate and fair remedy at this time is to Dismiss the Superseding Indictment as it relates to Defendant Keving Stubss.the

On the 27th day of September, 2013, LVMPD Officer K Race, P# 9196, received information that Kevin Stubbs, ID # 1992318, and his brother Corey Stubbs, ID# 1999193, were in possession of a stolen vehicle and that Kevin had made threats to credible threats toward law enforcement officers to shoot it out with them, instead of going to jail. This information was provided by the Henderson Police Department. Henderson PD also stated that Kevin was in possession of a firearm.

Officer Race was familiar with Kevin and Corey Stubbs and knew they stayed at the address of 9735 Powell Plateau Las Vegas, Clark County, NV Officer Race and Officer D. Hawthom, P# 9151, responded to that address and set up surveillance in a plain clothes capacity around 2000 hrs. on the 27th of September, 2013. At approximately 2010 hrs. a black newer model Camaro drove up in front of the residence, occupied by

LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT CONTINUATION REPORT

ID/EVENT#:	1999193

Corey Stubbs, the driver, and Kevin Stubbs, the passenger. Both occupants of the Camaro exited and walked inside 9735 Powell Plateau.

Around 2112 hours both Corey and Kevin exited the residence and proceeded to re-enter the Camaro when they were taken into custody by Officer Race and Hawkins. On the front passenger seat where Kevin was sitting was a Ruger model LCP .380 caliber semi-auto pistol with a serial number of 373-90032. Kevin is a convicted felon for Battery with a Deadly Weapon, 2007 NV, and Coercion with Deadly Weapon, 2007 NV. Corey is a convicted felon for Battery with a Deadly Weapon, 2007 NV, Coercion with Deadly Weapon, 2007 NV, and Battery with Deadly Weapon, 2008 NV.

Due to officers knowing this information and the fact that there was a pistol in the vehicle, Officer Race notified the LVMPD Firearms Investigations Unit and requested our assistance. Upon the arrival of Detective M. Kitchen, P# 6474, Sgt. A. Wolfenbarger, P# 5980, and I, Detective S. Farrington, P# 8244, we confirmed the aforementioned information. Since the vehicle was embezzled from a rental company and the fact that both Corey and Kevin lived at the address of 9735 Powell Plateau, it was believed that more evidence was inside the residence.

A search warrant was applied for and granted by the Honorable Judge Tobiasson for the residence of 9735 Powell Plateau as well as the DNA of Cory and Kevin Stubbs. During the execution of the search warrant a Mossberg model 88 12 gauge, pump action shotgun, with a serial number of MV84015D was located in an upstairs bedroom. This bedroom belonged to Corey Stubbs due to paperwork being found with his name on it as well as pictures of him on the walls

Both Corey's and Kevin's DNA were recovered and will be compared to any DNA recovered from the processing of the firearms. Corey was arrested for Own/Possess Gun by Prohibited Person, due to a shotgun being found in his room. Kevin was arrested for Own/Possess Gun by Prohibited Person for the pistol found in the embezzled car, on the passenger seat, he was the passenger of as well as the fact that credible information was obtained by Henderson PD stating that Kevin was in possession of a firearm.

Both were transported and booked at CCDC. Judgments of Conviction have been ordered for both Corey and Kevin and will be given to the DA's office immediately upon receipt.

Hi Craig,

Please advise what you mean by chain of custody reports. Are you referring to property reports? I cannot estimate when the DNA results will be back. It depends on LVMPD's lab. In my experience, its taken up to 18 months to get results back.

You are not entitled to disciplinary files, if they exist, of the officers, either under Rule 16 or under the JDA. If the case proceeds to trial, and there is any Gigilio material that needs to be disclosed for a witness that is actually testifying, it will be disclosed accordingly.

I am unaware of any video, audio, etc., but I will double check and make sure none exists.

Thanks, Cristina

Subject: US v. Kevin Stubbs, 2:13-cr-00381-APG

Cristina,

We have reviewed the discovery related to Mr. Stubbs. At your office's convenience, can you provide us copies of the unredacted LVMPD Arrest report, page 9. There is a paragraph blacked out. Can you please also provide us the chain of custody and allied documents for both the Ruger pistol and the collected DNA as it relates to my client. Can you also let me know your estimate on when the DNA results will be back.

This is also a request for the complete disciplinary file of officers K. Race, P#9196, D. Hawkins, P#9151, S. Farrington, P#8244, M. Kitchen, P#6474, and A. Wolfenbarger, P#5980.

I believe this case is governed by a Joint Discovery Agreement, as such, I wanted to email you before filing any requests with the Court.

Additionally, this is a request that all video, audio and other surveillance related to this incident be preserved.

Thanks.

Craig

Kevin STUBBS (Suspect) Corey STUBBS (Suspect)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (Victim)

The following evidence was examined and results are reported below.

Lab Item #	Impound Pkg #	Impound Item #	Description	Summary
Item 1	006474 - 01	01	Ruger LCP handgun and magazine with loade	d rounds
Item 1.1			- Ruger LCP handgun, SN: 373-90032	Mixture profile
Item 1.2			Ruger .380 magazine (with loaded rounds not examined)	Complex mixture profile
Item 2	006474 - 2	2	Mossberg shotgun with ammunition
Item 2.1			- Mossberg Model 88 12 gauge shotgun, SN: MV84015D	Inconclusive mixture profile
Item 5	006474 - 5	5	Box of ammunition and magazine
Item 5.1			- Empty Davis Industries P380 magazine	 Inconclusive mixture profile
Item 6	006474 - 6	6	Two magazines
Item 6.1			- Empty dark gray metal magazine	Mixture profile
Item 6.2			- Empty black metal magazine	 Inconclusive mixture profile
Item 3	00647	4 - 03	Buccal swabs from Corey Stubbs	Full male profile
Item 4	006474 - 04		Buccal swabs from Kevin Stubbs	Full male profile

Results and Conclusions:

Item 1.1, Item 1.2, Item 2.1, Item 5.1, Item 6.1, Item 6.2, Item 3, and Item 4 were subjected to PCR amplification at the following STR genetic loci: D8S1179, D21S11, D7S820, CSF1PO, D3S1358, TH01, D13S317, D16S539, D2S1338, D19S433, vWA, TPOX, D18S51, D5S818, and FGA. The sex-determining Amelogenin locus was also examined.

Lab Item 1.1

The DNA profile obtained from the Ruger LCP handgun (Item 1.1) is consistent with a mixture of at least three individuals with at least one being a male. The partial major DNA profile is consistent with Corey Stubbs (Item 3). The estimated frequency of the partial major DNA profile among unrelated individuals in the general population is rarer than 1 in 700 billion (identity assumed). No conclusions can be made regarding the minor contributors.

Lab Item 1.2

Conclusions with regard to the Ruger .380 magazine (Item 1.2) cannot be reached because the profile is not suitable for comparison.

Lab Item 2.1

Conclusions with regard to the Mossberg Model 88 12 gauge shotgun (Item 2.1) cannot be reached because the profile is not suitable for comparison.

Conclusions with regard to the empty Davis Industries P380 magazine (Item 5.1) cannot be reached because the profile is not suitable for comparison.

The DNA profile obtained from the empty dark gray metal magazine (Item 6.1) is consistent with a mixture of at least three individuals with at least one being a male. The partial major DNA profile is consistent with an unknown male #1. Corey Stubbs (Item 3) and Kevin Stubbs (Item 4) can be excluded as a contributor to the partial major DNA profile obtained. No conclusions can be made regarding the minor contributors.
